FERTILIZER.

FERTILIZER.

W HANN'S RAW BONE SUPER PHOSPHATE.

The unexampled success of this renowned manure during many years, has won for it a reputation which few other fertilizers can claim. Its sales are very extensive in all parts of the country, especially in those parts of the South where cotton and corn are largely grown. So decided and positive have been its results on these important staples, that in many sections it is preferred to all other manures.

Whann's Raw Bone Super Phosphate

is prompt and active in its effects. It starts the young plant vigorously, and by furnishing a steady supply of nutriment during the period of its growth, brings the crop to a healthy maturity in time to escape the ravages of early frosts. We offer this well-known fertilizer to our friends, confident that they will concur in the ocinion of the leading planters of the South, that for Cotton and Corn it is un-

equailed. WILLIAMSON, UPCHURCH & THOMAS,

EARLY SABBATH SCHOOLS IN RALEIGH.—The following paper was written a few years ago by J. R. Harrison, Esq., one of the oldest and most useful citizens of this place, in rela-tion to the history of the Sabbath Schools of our city. It contains some inaccuracies, but nevertheless it is full of interesting data, and we publish as a matter of interest to our older citizens, and as being appropriate to the day:

"The first Sunday School held in the city of Raleigh, assembled in Glendennin Church in 1816. This church has long since disappeared, but, if memory serves us correctly, it was located on Blount st., between Morgan and Hargett. The school held therein was confined to no de-nomination, but was patronized by all. The children were instructed in the usual manner; prizes for good behavior, &c., offered; and the school always opened and closed with prayer. We are not informed whether singing was a portion of the exercises, but most probably hymns were sung and taught to the scholars. Among the teachers were Mr. Smith, Mr. Wright, Mr. Frontis, a Frenchman, Wm. Peace and Miss Nye. Each Sunday morning, after school services were over, the scholars were formed in marching column and conducted to church, in the Common's Hall of the old Capitol, where Dr. McPheeters preached. It may be remarked here, and truly too, that every one went to hear Dr. McPheeters at this time. There were no commodious church buildings in the city at that early day, therefore, religious services were held in the Capitol.

"Mrs. Lavinia M. Brown, a life-long resident, has kindly furnished the following information in relation to a Sunday School taught in the Raleigh Female Academy, in 1822, by Miss Annie Benedict, of whom Rev. Bennet T. Blake says 'her labors of love and mercy were limited only by the extent of her abilities.' Mrs. Brown savs:

"'I never attended a Sabbath school, as we had none when I was a child. I remember about the year 1822, one of the teachers of the Raleigh Female Academy opened a Sabbath school in the academy, where the poorer class of children could be taught. I was a teacher there for a short time. Not many children attended, however, and when the session closed the school was discontinued.'

"As soon as the Presbyterian Sunday school held at Glendennin church was removed, and Miss Benedict was the person who commenced the school at the Presbyterian church. It still remained open to all denominations. The poorer class of children, who had no instruction at home, first attended, but it was not long before all the children of the congregations became equally interested and regular in their attendance. The school was now mainly supported by the unwearied efforts of Miss Bene-

"In 1827, the children of the Methodist congregation were withdrawn, At first there was some opposition on the part of all the denominations towards forming separate schools, but it was evident upon reflection that greater good could be done by many schools than by a single one, and shortly after this time about one hundred and fifty children all told, were counted in the different Sunday Schools of the city.

"About 1830, the Episcopalians formed an independent School, and about 1833, the Baptists did likewise. "In the year of 1827, there was also a Sunday School in this city for col-ored children. Several persons in the families of the Episcopalians, Presbyterians, Baptists and Methodist taught these children. were mostly from the Methodis church, however, and that denomination to-day reaps the harvest sown many years ago. The School was finally discontinued when the privileges of the colored people to read, write, etc., were abridged by law.

"Mr. P. F. Pescud says when he came to Raleigh, in January, 1844, he found a small Sabbath School in the basement of Baptist church, now the Roman Catholic church, and so well as we can remember Daniel Dupre, Sr., was Superintendent.

"The teachers were T. Parham, J. F. Jordan, M. B. Royster, Mrs. Sarah Williams, Mrs. Catherine Lewis, Miss Sallie Towles, Lucinda Briggs, Julia Jones, now Julia Parkinson, and Mrs. James Royster. Not long afterwards he, Bro. Pescud, was chosen Superintendent and served until May 1858-'59. He was succeeded by Bro. D. Williams, and he by Bro. W.

J. Palmer. During the year 1853, or 1854, Wesley Whitaker was Superintendent. I know this to be so, as I was then a member of the school. "In 1844 the average attendance at the Baptist school was 60 or 70. It has increased ever since, and even in 1858 numbered 200 pupils.

"The other schools for white children in this city flourished likewise, and celebrations on the 4th day of July, or Christmas, or May-day or Easter Monday were had with the approval of every one

"Your compiler is aware, and he will say in conclusion, that many interesting facts have been omitted, not intentionally, but because he could not collate them, owing to the the death of those who began and fostered the first Schools in Raleigh. They rest in peace, and though it is not the privilege of man to record in full the story of their unwearied exertions, yet God has written it in his Book of Life, and if lost to time still this to all storyier." it lives to all eternity." GUILFORD COURT. STATUS OF THE PARMERS.

THE BEAUTIFUL TOWN OF GREENS-

BORO, &C.

Our general correspondent, who has been in Greensboro for the last week, sends us the following: "Court opened on Monday—Judge Tourgee presiding. No case has been upon docket to furnish a theme for great legal acumen, or impassioned speech, the most conspicuous being the divorce suit of John R. Thomas vs. Martha J. Thomas, upon the ground of desertion and adultery. The judgment rendered was in favor of the plaintiff. We were much struck with the air of sobriety and good order amongst the numerous attendants upon Court, the only breach of decorum, noticeable, being the owl screechings and shoutings of a few drunken men on one corner of South street and a cock fight at another, of which latter amusement your correspondent was an interested pectator, and was so fortunate as to bet on the boss rooster.

During the recess of Court on Tuesday, Col. J. T. Morehead delivered a speech on the subject of the most imspeech on the subject of the most important measures passed by the recent Legislature. Amongst others he showed in a convincing manner the practicability of, and great economy effected by the act extending the jurisdiction of magistrates, which his Honor, while delivering his charge to the Grand Jury, facetiously termed an act to encourage crime termed an act to encourage crime and promote violations of the law.

Besides the full representation of the bar of Greensbore, the following non-resident lawyers were in attendance: Hon. Wm. A. Graham and John W. Graham, of Hillsboro, Jas. . Graham, of Graham, Boyd & Mebane, of Wentworth, and the Solicitor James R. Bulla, of High Point. The farmers, though comparatively little effected by the panic, are nevertheless in a much more back-ward state than they would be under better auspices. Knowledge has not shed her light upon them. They plod away in the blind folds of ignorance, without any idea of the science of agriculture. With the general adaptibility of the soil, what is needed to make this portion of our country to equal the grain sections of the North are capital, immigration and improved methods of tillage.

"Many improvements have recently taken place in Greensboro, and others are in progress. The new court-house, the finest in North Carolina, was completed during the past month. The well known Benbow House is receiving an extensive addition to its size, which, when finished, will cause this to be a spacious and handsome edifice. An elegant hotel is in construction by Mr. Mc-Adoo, on east side of South street, and on the opposite side the beautiful opera building of Dr. Benbow will be opened in a few months by a grand concert given by Mr. Leo Wheat, of Bichmond. The Greensboro Female Institute, under the charge of the Rev. T. N. Jones, sustains its old reputation, and is a flourishing school. It has an able corps of teachers and a scholarship of nearly 150 members with a scholarship of nearly 150 members, with a capacity for many more. Through the kindness of Prof. Wm. Doub, we were shown throughout this large and handsome building, recently erected upon the site of the old College, which was destroyed by fire in 1863. It is a model of a school structure, embodying all the most practicable features for comfort, convenience and health, and is delightfully situatedstanding upon a high hill, surrounded by an extensive grove of oaks, and overlooking the beautiful town beneath. In company with Mr. D. F. Caldwell, to whom we owe much of the pleasure of our visit, we inspected the various manufacturing institutions of the place. Prominent among these is the Spoke and Handle Fac-tory of Col. McMahon, which employs 100 operatives and ships its manufactures to various portions of Europe as well as America. These various institutions, with others in contemplation, and the many improvements taking place in the town, evidence the thrift and enterprise of Greensboro, which with the praise-worthy taste displayed by its citizens in the adornment of their spacious yards, deservedly entitle it to the name it has won of the City of Flowers. WAKE FOREST ENDOWMENT .-

Our readers are aware that strenuous efforts are being made to endow this Institution, so as to place it on a permanent basis of usefulness. Wake Forest College has already educated not less than seventy ministers of the Gospel, besides many others who have acquainted themselves well in secular life. It is impossible to estimate the good which this Institution has conferred upon society. One well educated man is worth more than thousands of dollars in gold and silver. His influence is felt not only in his own day and time, but through future generations. We are pleased to learn that the endowment work for this College has reached a point which promises success. The assets in hand, together with what the sehools of our beautiful little city. Who can calculate or weigh in the balance and tell us how much the sweet lessons taught to little children, year after year, have been worth to the community at large? It must cheer and encourage us to persevere in the good work until every child decided that the maximim, ($100,000) of the Educational fund shall have been reached. The friends of the Institution are confident that the one hundred thousand dollars can be raised by the close of 1876. Mean-while, as we learn, the Raleigh Baptists will pay six per cent. on their subscription, to be devoted to the support of the College. The Baptists in North Carolina are numerous, and many of them are wealthy. They ought to be able easily to raise the amount required. One dollar from each Baptist in the State would almost make up the Endowment. But the cause of education has strong claims upon all. We rejected to the control of the cause of the claims upon all. We rejoice to see this cause advancing and flourishing, no matter under what auspices. Our great hope for mental and moral pro-gress in the Ministers of the Gospel of all denominations in the great of all denominations, in the press, and in the educators of our children and youth. we learn that the largest subscribers in Raleigh to the Endowment are Col. J. M. Heck and Messrs. Jno. G. Williams and Thomas H. Briggs, Sr. Several others have subscribed $500 each. Col. Heck's subscription $5,000, and Messrs. Briggs and Williams $1,000 each.

PUBLIC SCHOOLS.—The following communication explains itself. It is designed to correct a paragraph which appeared recently in this paper: Ed. News

DEAR SIR:-My attention has been called to a paragraph in a late num-ber of your paper, which stated that it was "reported" that the Public School Houses in the city of Raleigh were rented out to private parties. As one of the School Board for this Township, I desire to correct the impression the paragraph alluded to might make upon the public. The School Houses (2 in number) are let out to private parties for school purposes at this time, but only in the interest of education. Unable, for lack of sufficient funds, to use the School Houses for public purposes, the Committee allowed Mr. Scott, in the Western Ward, and Mrs. Dixon in the Eastern, to teach a private school in each house until such time as the School Board might be enabled to use them. If they were not in use by these individuals they would be closed. Both the persons named have agreed, in consideration of the use of the houses, to teach three scholars each, free, and the Board have allowed pastors of churches in this city to choose the meritorious boys to be taught by this arrangement. By the arrangement, Mr. Scott is now teaching three scholars free. Mrs. Dixon has not yet began to keep school. These par-ties will give up the school houses whenever they are demanded by the School Board.

THE Wilson Plaindealer will please remember that we did not object to the "taking off" of the outlaw STEVE Lowery-we rejoice with the good people of Robeson over the happy riddance of this desperate murderer, and hope there may be no followers of the Lowery gang. But we still assert that we cannot read the account of the manner of his killing, a branded outlaw though he was, without feeling "our blood tingle a little." We approved most heartily of the reward offered for the outlaws, and hope it may prove of much benefit to those who have earned it.

ICELAND celebrates her millenial this year-874-1874. The festival will be held at Reyjavik, the capital, and will attract the sons of this Arctie land from far and near. For this bleak, barren country has a history, and a strange and memorial one. It is the most northern settlement of white men in the world. In its struggles are represented some of the most dogged traits of the human will and energy-cold, darkness, barrenness, isolation, disease—were all to be conquered-a social system, a government, a literature were created, and a national spirit born of toil and dif-

THE Wilmington Journal, in a lengthy article, reviews the legislation of North Carolina since the late war. We should like to reproduce the entire article had we the space, but must content ourselves with one or two extracts. Says the Journal: "As the days and the years roll by, the difference between Radical and Conservative legislation becomes more and more a substantial tangible reality. Every year that passes shows some advance in good government over the one that preceded it, giving promise that the time is not far distant when North Carolina shall once more stand forth before the world free and unshackled. But this consummation so devoutly to be wished, cannot be said to have fully reached until we shall have as the Chief Executive of the State a man in full accord with the Legislature, instead of one who, like Governor Caldwell, seeks every occasion to thwart the wishes of the people as expressed by their duly elected Representatives."

But few people in the South will grieve over the burial in the Senate of the proposed Congressional appropriation of $3,000,000 to the Philadelphia centennial. CAMERON has labored most zealously to obtain this appropriation, but has little or no prospect of succeeding. We have no to it. Then the Indians, forty in all, objection to the centennial, and think Philadelphia the appropriate place, but the country should not be called upon to pay for Philadelphia's fiddling.

A CORRESPONDENT of the Norfolk Virginian, writing from Philadelphia, says threre are hundreds of men in that State who are preparing of any sort. The latter sentiment to visit the South with a view of will be endorsed by the public stateprospecting, Virginia and North Car- ment of the country. olina being their objective points, being drawn here by the climate and | Pennsylvania Legislature fixing the rich productiveness of our soil, its extensive mineral resources, great ten dollars per diem for all special and water power and the restoration of order from the chaos occasioned by the "civil conflict". All such visitors will find a welcome in our midst.

THE Wilmington Journal says the Legislature just ended, is the shortest regular session that has been held since Reconstruction began. In 1868, the so-called Legislature met in special session in July and sat for forty-five days. It met again on the 16th of November in the same year and sat one hundred and forty-eight days, five months lacking two days, with the exception of two weeks during the Christmas holidays. The same body met again on the 15th of November, 1869, and sat for one hundred and thirty-four days, with the exception of the usual Christmas hol-

In 1870 the Conservatives got con. trol of the Legislature. The session of that winter lasted only one hundred and fifteen days, including the forty-four days of the trial of the impeachment of Governor Holden. The session of the winter of 1871-72, lasted only seventy-five days; the session of 1872-'73 lasted eighty days; and the session just ended, lasted only seventy-two days.

THE Richmond (Va.) Whig thus sensibly treats of the subject of married women's rights:

"Senator SMITH, of Nelson, has introduced a bill which provides that female who may hereafter marry, the debts contracted by her husband before marriage. Also, that an action may be maintained against them jointly for a debt contracted by the wife before marriage, but the execu tion of any judgment or decree in such action shall only bind the propnership commenced. This bill is all well enough as far as it goes, but it does not go half as far as it should. The property owned by married woseparate estate, subject to investment by the husband only as a fiduciary. If such had been the law years ago we would not to-day witness one-half THE Kinston Gazette, a temperance the number of poverty-stricken homes, penniless widows, and destitute orphans."

The Tichborne Case. After the Tichborne trials people must overhaul and revise their ideas of the impossible. Nothing has ever been attempted so absurd, so insane one may almost say as the scheme of the Australian butcher to make himself a baronet and millionaire by simply lying. He had scarcely a sin-gle point to begin work upon. A young gentleman had been drowned at sea, who was heir to a title and a great estate. His friends, convinced of his death, gave his heritage to the next of kin. His mother alone, refusing to despair, advertised for the missing one. The advertisement coming to the eyes of a butcher in Australia, he resolved to personate the lost son. There was not chance in a million that he could succeed. There was no accidental resemblance of person, of manner, or of character. Mr. Nasby tried to get a drink once at Willard's Hotel by saying he was Charles Sumner. But this attempt was no less ridiculous. The baronet was a little, delicate, "scrubby" man. The claimant was a man-mountain, weighing 360 pounds. The baronet spoke French more readily than English; the claimant did not know one word of the language. Sir Roger belonged to a wide-spread family connection of which the claimant had never seen a single member. Yet he confidently sailed for England and for seven years fought the desperate fight which has ended in his conviction as a felon, with a varying suc-cess which must always remain a wonder to succeeding ages. His trial has changed men's opinions as to the worth of human evidence. Dozens of witnesses, among whom was Sir Roger's mother, testified that this was the rightful heir. Several members of Parliament espoused his cause. Popular subscriptions assisted him in his scheme. He was defeated at last by two things—by his own state-ment in regard to Mrs. Radcliffe, which all England instinctively cried could not have been made by a man born a gentleman, and by the evi-dence of Lord Bellew, who said he had tattooed Sir Roger in his boyhood. Remove these two comparatively unimportant incidents from the case, and it is not impossible that the craziest crime against rank and property ever attempted might have succeeded, by form of law, in the most aristocratic country of earth.-New York Tribune.

The Greeley (Col.) Tribune says that the great Indian fiasco is about played out. It is summed up in the fact that two Indians stole a couple of horses; then several white vaga-bonds, engaged in selling liquor to the Indians, stole twenty of their ponies, and application being made to the military, no attention was paid murdered two white men and attacked a squad of troops. Out of these operations, the saloon-keepers and the agents who furnish army supplies have manufactured an Indian war for the purpose of preventing Congress from cutting down appropriations. The Tribune affirms that the Indians have no intention of making war, and that, if the control of Indian affairs were given to the army, there would be no trouble

Says the Statesville American in its last issue:

"Fanny Younger, a widow, living in New Hope Township, this county, left home on the 23d of last month, about 2 o'clock in the evening and did not return. After an absence of two days search was made and she was found on Wednesday following, lying dead in a patch a half mile from where she lived, with a jug, containing whisky, beside her. It is supposed that after she obtained the liquor she became intoxicated and died from the effects or exposure. She left six children."

The whisky excitement has had the effect of rousing Trinity Church, New York, from its stolid self-consciousness of opulent respectability. Trinity Church is by far the richest religious society on the continent, and derives an enormous revenue from its rented property. Among the hundreds of buildings rented out to Mammon for the enrichment of the church, forty or fifty have been occupied by saloon-keepers. The drowsy Vestry have at length discovered a certain incongruity herein existing, and have issued a notice that they will in the future sin no more. It is said that fifteen years ago the harassing comments of the daily press produced a reform movement in the church somewhat similar to this,—the tearing down of all the houses owned by it on Church street, and rented out to infamous persons, and building the fine wholesale stores which now cover the same ground.

It is asserted that various experiments have proved that the saliva, as well as the pancreatic juice of newly born animals does not possess the power of transforming starch into sugar, and it is therefore inferred, with good reason, that any substance containing starch is unfit for food for very young infants, as their physiological condition is probably similar to that of the young of carnivorous animals generally.

An old man of 73, who had long been in bonds of intemperance, was recently converted, and, when relating his experience, ascribed his first determination to reform to the remark of his little boy, who once brought in the old man's brandy bottle from its hiding place in a haymow, saying: "I suppose some vaga-bond left it there." The word vagabond did the business.

To the Farmers and Guano Dealers of North Carolina and Virginia: Gentlemen: To the mary of you with whom I am personally acquainted, I would say, that of good results from GUANAHANI GUANO, I have not the shadow of a doubt. Containing, as it does, in such large amounts, the essentials for plant food, success from its application would seem certain. It being of animal origin, you will see at once that its ingredients must be all soluble in the soil. Its nitrogen, from nitric acid, is the most available form known to chemistry; the other part, from undecomposed animal matter, is preferable to the volatile salits in Peruvian Guano. I ask of each of you the kindness of a thorough examination of the accompanying apalyses by two of the great chemists of the country. With respect, yours truly,

LETTER FROM PROF. WM. C. KERR, STATE GEOLOGIST OF NORTH CAROLINA Raleigh, N. C., January 7th, 1874. Wm. R. Griffith, Esq., General Agent Guanahani Guano Company, Peters

burg, Virginia:

Dear Sir: Dr. F. A. Genth, whose Analysis of the Guanahani Guano you have shown me is Chemical Minerologist to the Geological Survey, and has no superior as a chemist. I have no besitation in endorsing any analysis from his laboratory. And I think the analysis justifies his statement that the substance examined by him is a VALUABLE MANURE.

From his report and that of Prof. Wilson it is evidently a TRUE GUANO, both in From his report, and that of Prof. Wilson, it is evidently a TRUE GUANO, both in origin and composition, and its action on crops may be expected to be the same in kind and in degree proportioned to its relative per centage of the valuable ingredients—Phosphoric Acid, Ammonia and Potash, that of the first being unusually high.

Yours truly, W. C. KERR, State Geologist.

ANALYSES. The following analyses of different cargoes and samples by two of the leading chemists of the country, are given for the guidance of the public: LETTER OF PROF. P. B. WILSON, LATE ASSISTANT OF BARON J. VON LIEBIG

MAJ. N. M. TANNOR, President Guanahani Guano Company, Petersburg, Va.:

Baltimore, December 1st, 1873.

MAJ. N. M. TANNOR, President Guanahani Guano Company, Petersburg, Va.:

Dear Sir: I have drawn samples of the Guano, as it has arrived in cargo lots, and find it exceedingly uniform in the amount of Phosphoric Acid it contains, namely, from 15 to 19 per cent. This is combined with Lime, and is of animal origin, and readily assimilable by plants. It contains potential ammonia and nitric acid, having a combined Nitrogen value equal to from 2 to 3 per cent. of ammonia, with the alkalies Potash and Soda, and valuable proportions of Sulphate of Lime. The whole forming a very desirable combination for all crops, and when applied to land, the crop receiving proper tiliage, must, in my opinion, give as good results as any guano offered to the farmer.

Beling of animal origin, the organitic matter has undergone partial decomposition, and it necessarily contains a valuable amount of Humus, which makes its fertilizing power much greater than fertilizers which are compounded large y of Peruvian Guano, which, beyond its ammonia and small phosphatic value, has little er no power in absorbing from the atmosphere and retaining in the soil the movable elements absorbed by moisture and brought down by the rains, as the guano you are now placing upon the market. All of the components of this Guano are very soluble in the soil, and possess such physical properties as to render it at all times and under all circumstances as in mediately available plant food.

The late samples you sent me for analysis, from the deposit which you inform CHEMICAL LABORATORY OF PROF. P. B. WILSON, No. 30 Second Street, available plant food.

The late samples you sent me for analysis, from the deposit which you inform meyou intend to ship from, show a decease in the phosphatic value, but a large increase in its nitrogen compounds. I think, however, from previous observations of cargoes, that you may reasonably expect, that cargoes taken from where these samples were drawn, will materially improved in the saline compounds, (phosphates alkalles and magnesia.

Maj. N M. Taannor, Petersburg, Va.,

DEAR SIR: In compliance with your request, I have analyzed sample of "Gusnahani Guano," and have made additional examination of an average sample from a lot of 300 tons, the result of which, I beg to embrace in the following: The Guano is a brownish powder, with lumps of combinations of lime with Carbonic, Phosphoric and Nitric acids. It contains a considerable quantity of water (about 20 per cent.), and when dried is a paler brown powder. The Guano is evidently of animal origin, and the minute bones, which were discovered in the same, indicate that it is the result of the decay of bats, mice, &c. The quantity of organic matter, which is still present, is about 12 per cent., and this yields about 2½ per cent. of ammonia. A portion of the nitrogen is present, as nitric acid, of which about 3 per cent. was found. All the nitrogen present would be equivalent to about 3½ per cent. of ammonia. The phosphoric acid in the Guano, about 12½ per cent., equal to 27 3 per cent. of bone phosphate. A considerable quantity of the phosphoric acid, however, is present, as so-called neutral phosphate of lime, which, being slightly solt ble in water, renders the Guano as quick in its action, as a corresponding quantity of superphosphate would do. The small per centage of potesh, which was found in the analysis, adds to its value.

From all the experiments which I have made of the Guanahani Guano, no doubt can exist that it is a valuable manure.

Yours truly,

E. T. Wroth, Esq., Baltimore, Md.,

Dear Sir: I have your favor of 4th inst., making inquiries as to the results from application of the Guano which you sent me last fail. I applied it at the rate of 170 pounds per acre—the same quantity as of the other fertilizers I was then using. The wheat throughout the field bore much the same general appearance, with perhaps something in favor of your Guano. The grain of my crop on that field was generally of fine quality, and I cannot say that I observed any perceptible difference in its appearance.

The result in quantity, (the most important point,) I regret not to be able to give you. Threshing my crop by steam power, my attention was occupied at many points, at the same time, and on one of these occasions this particular percel of wheat was threshed before I was aware of it, and without any note of its comparative yield. I therefore cannot pronounce positively in its favor, over others; but, from its general appearance, judge it quite equal to other standard fertilizers of established reputation.

Very respectfully yours,

Wr. Henry Decourcy.

WM. R. Geleffith, Esq., General Agent,
In reply to yours of the 12th, will say, the farmers can say but little, as yet, in regard to Guanahani Guano. But Maj. A. G. Davis, who used one bag, by the side of several other fertilizers, says, so far, the Guanahani looks better than any of the others. All parties say, so far, they can see no difference in their grain wherever it is up sufficient to judge. By the Spring, I can give you a more satisfactory report. Hoping to have the pleasure of a visit from you, soon,

San Marino, Dinwiddie Co., Va., November 15th, 1873.

W. R. Griffith, Esq.,

Dear Sir: Yours of the 12th inst., was received on yesterday, and, in compliance with your request, I hasten to reply. I purchased half ton of Guananani Guano, from Messrs. Rowlett & Tannor, ist of October, 1873, to use upon my wheat crop, as an experiment. I applied it 200 lbs, per acre. The wheat was seeded from the 10th to the 17th of October. I was very careful in the application, leaving two strips of land through the field; one of an acre, the other two acres. The one acre strip was manured with   * Phosphate. The two acre strip was in tobacco, heavily manured with stable manure and * * * * * Tobacco Fertilizer. I also added a strip of very poor land (stubble) on one end, three-fiths of an acre. Upon this I applied 100 lbs. of Guanahani, and also moistened the wheat and rolled it in the Guano. (I mean the wheat sewn upon this three-fiths strip.) The season has been favorable, and the young wheat is looking very well; and that upon the narrow strip of poor land, equally as good as upon the heavily manured tobacco land. I am satisfied that the Guano is acting upon this strip of wheat, as the land was very poor. I do not think that it would be well for me to make a positive assertion just yet, bu will carefully note the result and let you hear from me again.

Yours respectfully.

THOS. F. RIVES.

Messrs. Rowlett & Tannor,
Dear Sirs: In reply to your inquiries in regard to the Gusnahani Gusne, which I purchased last summer, I can only say that I applied it on my wheat crop, sowing it broadcast and plowed it in with the wheat. So far, I am vary much pleased with the Gusno. Where I used it, the wheat looks better than any I have seen, and my neighbors who have seen it, consider it so. I applied it the first of October, and it shows very plainty over the wheat where there was nothing used.

Very respectfully,

Dear Sir: I am just in receipt of your letter, but regret that I did not receive it sooner.

I used your Guano. side by side with * * * * * * * Ammoniated Super-Phosphate, and could perceive no difference, only in growth of the straw. The straw from * * * * * * * rather the largest. The grass from it was equally as good, and I do not hesitate in recommending it to farmers as a reliable fer tilizer.

Sirs: You ask me my opinion of the Guanahani Guano I puechased of you last fall.
I used the guano on my wheat, but owing to the unfavorable fail for the growth of wheat, it would be impossible for any manure to show its strength fully. However, I think the guan oa good ertilizer, from the fact, that the wheat looks as well as it does where a well known fertilizer was used that cost nearly double the money.

Respectfully,

Petersburg. Va., December 16th, 1873.

WM. R. Griffiih, General Agent of the Guanahani Guano Company,
Dear Sir: In reply to your enquiry about the action of the Guanahani Guano on my

Prince George County, Va. Broad Run Station, Fauquier County, Va., December 4th, 1873. Broad Run Station, Fauquier County, L.,

Dear Sir: I left one row without your fertilizer, and used it on the next row: I used at the rate of 200 pounds to the acre. I had the corn carefully gathered separate, and found the result as follows: From the Guano row I shelled one bushel and nearly a half gallon; from the row without guano I got a half bushel and not quite a quart; making fully double where I used guano. The growth of stalk was not proportionately heavy—the strength seemed to go to the grain. I think it an excellent Spring fertilizer. The land I tried it on was quite thin.

Gentlemen: Yours of the 15th is received. You ask "How I like the Guanahani Guano, so far?" Gentlemen: Yours of the 15th is received. You ask "how I fixe the Guanahani Guano, so far?"

In reply I have to say that I used five bags last fall, experimentally. I applied four bags to wheat at the rate of 200 pounds to the acre. I used the same quantity (200 pounds) on winter oats. The wheat was not sown until about the 20th of October, but has already a healthy, vigorous blade. The present indications lead me to believe that it is decidedly superior to any of the super-phosphates.

The winter oats we e sown the last of September. In the application to this crop, I have, in consequence of earlier seeding, a better opportunity of observing the effect of the Guanahani Guano. Here it is most marked and decided. It reminds me of former days, when, for a moderate outlay of money, the farmer purchased the pure Chincha Island. (unadulterated) Peruvian Guano.

I wish to try some of this Guano next year on cotton and tobacce.

Premium will be paid by me to be shown a family or factory pump to equal mine in general merit. Four years experimenting and perfecting these Pumps, and twenty years steam milling and steam-boiling where pumps were of much consideration. I make two class of pumps, seven sizes, and a dozen different styles, to go by hand or power. These pumps, covered by letterpatent, have taken the medal and premium over all domestic pumps in the State. Been tested in over fifty fires and saved millions by extinguishing the fires on dwellings, cotton gins, saw mills, turpentine distillerles, tobacco and cotton factories, and not one overcome yet. Hundreds of those in wells eighty-five feet and under over three years, without even the expense of repacking. They are all changed in half a minute by attaching hose from a common pump to a fire engine, throwing thirty to size on the roof of three story buildings. Send for price list.

Steam and water pipes, hose, hose couping and pipe furnished and fitted.
